

COOPERATIVE PROGRAM AGREEMENT BETWEEN
FLOYD COLLEGE AND NORTH METRO TECHNICAL INSTITUTE

Floyd College and North Metro Technical Institute join together for the purpose of providing a Cooperative Degree Program in the following areas:

- (1) AAS in Business
- (2) AAS in Health
- (3) AAS in Services
- (4) AAS in Technology

With these areas, the following program areas constitute part of this agreement:

AAS in Business includes: Accounting, Business and Office Technology, Computer Programming, Hotel/Restaurant/Travel Management, Information and Office Technology, Management and Supervisory Development, Marketing Management, and Microcomputer Specialist.

AAS in Health includes Paramedic Technology.

AAS in Services includes Environmental Horticulture.

AAS in Technology includes Automotive Technology, Ford ASSET program, Drafting, and Electronics Technology.

The AAS degree consists of 36 or more hours of general education and related academic coursework from Floyd College. The technical component of the degree (60 or more quarter hours) is to be completed at North Metro Technical Institute. Credit for completion of the technical core is transferred to Floyd College as "block credit" toward requirements for the A.A.S. degree. It is acknowledged by this Cooperative Agreement that Floyd College, as the degree granting institution, is ultimately responsible for the credits which make up the degrees.

In keeping with this acknowledgement, Floyd College and North Metro Technical Institute hereby agree to:

- (a) Acknowledge that the Vice President for Academic Affairs of Floyd College, by virtue of the degree granting responsibility of that institution, is to be administratively responsible for the oversight and coordination of this cooperative program;
- (b) Establish a Cooperative Degree Oversight Committee composed of four representatives from each of the two institutions to provide oversight for the cooperative program. Members of the committee will be named by the
