Subject: Changes to AIP, Early Warning Program, and withdraw date

Greetings, fellow faculty members. We'll be discussing these changes at this week's faculty meeting, so I've done a slide show with voice over to explain them ahead of the meeting to facilitate the discussion. The video takes 11 minutes and provides much information to discuss at division meetings and with colleagues. Not to mention that you can send comments to me, acting on behalf of the Advising Council. But please, no slamming my hero, Max Headroom. :)

A change to the withdraw date for the term is included among these, the date by which a student must withdraw to get a grade of W. That date is being pushed to Week 9 and is October 20. (The mid-term date is October 11.) Here's the link to the slide show.

The link that I mention in the video to the short article called "Follow the F Grades" is below. See you all at In Service! - Diane
